METRO Celebrates Launch of 'One Ride at a Time' with Special Public Event
ORAT Public Event Wrap Up

Santa Cruz, Calif. (April 7, 2023): Santa Cruz County transportation, environmental and civic leaders gathered on March 29, 2023, to launch METRO's One Ride at a Time (ORAT) campaign to the community, an innovative campaign to showcase the environmental benefits of transit, encourage bus ridership and protect Santa Cruz County's extraordinary natural resources with every logged ride on a METRO bus donating to program partners in protecting the environment, the Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary Foundation and the Bay of Life Fund.

The event, which was held at the Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary Exploration Center in downtown Santa Cruz, offered the public, press, environmental advocates and local leaders an opportunity to learn about and sign up for the program, view the beautifully wrapped ORAT buses, and hear from the organizations leading the effort. A public event was held from 2-4 p.m. followed by a private reception from 4-6 p.m. (To view a video recap of the event please click here)

"This year METRO made a big commitment to protecting the environment. With the launch of One Ride at a Time, every ride on a METRO bus donates to our partners, the Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary Foundation and Bay of Life Fund," said Shebreh Kalantari-Johnson, METRO Board Chair. "This event is a way for us to share our commitment with the community and inspire residents to get involved."

Speakers included: Shebreh Kalantari-Johnson, Santa Cruz Councilmember and METRO Board Chair; Lisa Wooninck, Ph.D., Superintendent Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary; Michael Tree, METRO CEO/General Manager; Manu Koenig, County Supervisor and Santa Cruz County Regional Transportation Commission Board Chair and METRO Board Member; Featured Campaign Photographer Frans Lanting and Writer Chris Eckstrom, Founders of the Bay of Life Fund; Ginaia Kelly, Chapter Director of the Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary Foundation; and Santa Cruz Mayor Fred Keeley.

Immediately following the public event, ORAT program partners, media, community leaders and other invited guests convened to celebrate ORAT's successes to date. Thanks to SCCRTC's GO Santa Cruz's ridesharing incentive program, registered riders can donate $10 after 25 logged bus trips to one of the program's two environmental non-profit partners. In addition to the donations made by riders, METRO vendors have also pledged to support the program via METRO's Social Equity & Community Funding Policy. METRO and its partners recognized -Avaap and an anonymous donor for their significant donations and presented $20,000 in donations each to the Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary Foundation and Bay of Life Fund.

One Ride at a Time is made possible by a partnership between METRO, Santa Cruz County Regional Transportation Commission (SCCRTC), Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary Foundation, Bay of Life Fund, and renowned photographer-writer team Frans Lanting and Chris Eckstrom.

To participate in One Ride at a Time, bus riders must create an account on the online ridesharing portal administered by the Santa Cruz County Regional Transportation Commission (SCCRTC)'s GO Santa Cruz County program (scmttd.com/gosantacruz), or through the Commute Tracker app (scmttd.com/ctsetup). Once enrolled, riders will use the portal or the app to log their bus trips, earning 10 points for each trip with a maximum of two rides per day that count towards point accruals. When a rider reaches 250 points, or 25 rides, they can use the portal or the app to select one of METRO's nonprofit partners to receive a $10 donation. Riders can also see the greenhouse gas emissions reductions they've made by riding public transit and compete against each other to see who can make the biggest impact.

To promote the campaign, METRO is releasing pairs of buses wrapped with iconic images of the Monterey Bay including images from Lanting's Bay of Life Project. By the end of 2024, about 30 wrapped buses will be traveling throughout Santa Cruz County and featuring inspiring images of whales, sea otters, mountain lions, redwoods and more. Six buses are currently in circulation with more coming later in the spring.

"This project has been a labor of love for METRO and our partners, and we are excited to unveil it to our community," said METRO Marketing & Communications Director Danielle Glagola. "Our goal is to increase environmental awareness and remind the public that using public transit over personal vehicles, even one ride at a time, reduces omissions. Now, through this program and with our partners' help, riders can also donate to our local environmental nonprofits, doubling their impact, with one simple action of riding METRO."

Every ride on a METRO bus takes cars off the road and significantly reduces greenhouse gas emissions. Moreover, METRO is converting its entire bus fleet to zero-emissions buses (ZEBs). By the end of 2023, METRO will have 9 ZEBs deployed in the county with more coming every year. Starting in 2022, METRO has pledged that all new bus purchases will be ZEBs.

Special thank you to the following individuals, groups, non-profits, and vendors for making this event so successful: Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary Exploration Center, Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary Foundation, Bay of Life Fund, SCCRTC GO Santa Cruz, Avaap, Amotion Video, India Joze, Celtis, Catto's Graphics, City of Santa Cruz Parks & Rec, Fred Keeley, Ginaia Kelly, Lisa Wooninck, Frans Lanting, Chris Eckstrom, Shebreh Kalantari-Johnson, Manu Koenig, Michael Tree, Amanda Marino, Amy Naranjo, Cassie Erickson, Christina Funck, METRO operators and staff and all guests in attendance.

Bay of Life Fund

The Bay of Life Fund supports nonprofit environmental organizations with their educational and conservation programs in the Monterey Bay region, in the context of the Bay of Life Project launched by Frans Lanting and Christine Eckstrom. Initial partners include the Land Trust of Santa Cruz County, the Santa Cruz Museum of Natural History, the Seymour Marine Discovery Center, Watsonville Wetlands Watch, the Elkhorn Slough Foundation, the Amah Mutsun Land Trust, the Sempervirens Fund, and others.

Bay of Life Project

The Bay of Life Project connects land and sea and people with nature to promote a unified view of the Monterey Bay region through publications, exhibitions, events, and partnerships. The Project aims to stimulate engagement that contributes to a sustainable future for the Bay of Life.

Frans Lanting and Chris Eckstrom have documented our living planet on assignment for National Geographic for more than 30 years. But the place they know best is California's Monterey Bay, where they have lived for decades. "To us, Monterey Bay is one of Earth's crown jewels," they write. "We know of no other place in the world where land and sea connect in such an extraordinary way."

The book, Bay of Life: From Wind to Whales, is the centerpiece of the Bay of Life Project. It is available as a hardcover book and as an oversize, slipcased Collector's Edition. A Spanish-language edition is planned for 2024.

Bay of Life chronicles a remarkable recovery, which shows that damaged ecosystems can be restored when people care and take action together. Such stories of hope are needed as we face new challenges of habitat connectivity, climate change, and the need for more inclusive opportunities for our diverse communities.

The BayofLife.net website is the portal to images, stories, videos, and other content from the project along with a calendar of events and links to partner organizations.
